

Disclaimer: The Word BlackWe, the Original, Melanated Indigenous People of the Earth, in using the word “Black,” are in no way excluding those in our culture who don’t identify as “Black.” Some of us are not yet mentally separated from the current system’s English definition of the word. WE KNOW we are Not Black by Color, we are Black by Power. We are the Original, Indigenous people of the Earth! ~ Alkebulan RISE!

“We are not a church, we are not a club, we are not a cult – We are an organized Sovereign Micronation!”

THE UNITED EMPIRES OF ALKEBULAN CODE OF CONDUCT

It is time for us to get on CODE and CONDUCT OURSELVES COLLECTIVELY!
We ask that our people hold ourselves accountable. We shall vow to uphold the principles of the following codes in a pledge ceremony. The pledge should be spoken aloud with the right fist placed on the heart while repeating after an appointed official.

I _____ pledge allegiance to The United Empires of Alkebulan, my fellow sisters and brothers, the honorable, royal Founding Body, the elders and ancestors, and our great Nation with gratitude and the utmost deference.

I come in peace, truth, and faith to affirm this “new life” into which I have been accepted. My allegiance is sacred and blessed. I offer my talents where needed to help build and grow the Nation, and to only consume my fair share. I offer the gift of my know-how, skills, and education as blessings to the Nation in whatever ways I can provide them. I will advance through my abilities not only for the purpose of my own personal gain but also as an asset to the Nation. I will genuinely apply myself to become a productive citizen.

I will endeavor to educate myself and my family or seek education in the conditioning and true history of my people. I will endeavor to educate myself and my family or seek education in financial planning. I will practice recycling of “black dollars” whenever possible by patronizing Black-owned businesses. I will make every effort to become self-sufficient through business or property ownership, or investments, to achieve financial freedom. I understand these efforts are necessary to achieve a legacy for my family, my community, and the fulfillment of the purpose of the Nation. I shall practice the “B1 (Black First) Code” in all dealings (personal or business) with my sister or my brother, putting no political agenda, religious cause, “racial” groups, gender identity or sexual orientation, nor social construct of any kind above the Nation.

I speak with sincerity and with good will toward my fellow brother and sister. I vow to communicate with compassion and listen to opposing opinions. I will value all relationships and express my appreciation of it to those involved. Should I come to a place of disagreement or conflict with my sister or brother, I will always aim to resolve them with words of good intent and sound reasoning with that person. In the case that a resolution is not achieved, I agree to participate in a mediation or conflict resolution remedy established by the Nation.

I honor the creation of all things, the property of others, the Earth, its animals, living beings, and nature itself with great reverence. I will strive to be informed about how to live on the land whether by cultivating survival skills, growing herbs for wellness, food for sustenance, planting flowers and greenery, utilizing and preserving natural resources. I will be a good steward of any land, no matter how big or small, which has been assigned to me.

I attest my intentions are good and pure. The aforementioned codes are agreed upon as part of acceptance into the Body of The United Empires of Alkebulan.